HELPING MILITARY FAMILIES WITH SPECIAL NEEDS THRIVE

EFMP Exceptional
Family Member
Program

THE EXCEPTIONAL FAMILY MEMBER PROGRAM HAS MORE THAN JUST ONE CONNECTION POINT FOR FAMILIES.
 THE PROGRAM HAS THREE SEPARATE COMPONENTS: IDENTIFICATION & ENROLLMENT, ASSIGNMENT COORDINATION AND FAMILY SUPPORT.

IDENTIFICATION & ENROLLMENT

ASSIGNMENT COORDINATION

FAMILY SUPPORT

Enrollment in the EFMP is mandatory for active-duty military members. When a family member is identified with special medical and/or educational needs, the special needs are documented through enrollment in the EFMP. Medical services work with families to coordinate identification and enrollment in EFMP.

Medical and military personnel departments work with military members and families to coordinate assignments. While the military mission is the driving force, enrollment in EFMP ensures that a family member's special medical and/or educational needs are considered, since appropriate services may be limited in some locations.

EFMP Family Support plays a critical role in helping families navigate the Identification and Enrollment and Assignment Coordination processes. They also connect families with resources and support – helping them to become their own best advocate – with services including:

- Information and referral for military support providers and community services
- Education and outreach
- Referral to other Military and Family Support
- Warm handoffs to the EFMP at the next location
- Non-clinical case management

WHY ENROLL?
 Enrollment ensures that the family member's documented medical and/or educational needs are considered during the assignment process. EFMP enrollment is required before you may enroll in TRICARE ECHO.

Where are EFMP Family Support providers located?

You can find EFMP Family Support providers primarily at installation Military and Family Support Centers. If you're not located near an installation, consult your service branch website for more information or call Military OneSource at 800-342-9647.

How do I contact my nearest EFMP?

Housing Options

Colorado is a high cost of living location. Finding affordable housing which works within your own budget can be challenging. There are numerous local communities and installations in the Fort Carson area which can make the housing process somewhat overwhelming. To help, Fort Carson offers many resources.

During in-processing:

- Soldiers who are SGT (E5) or below and are unaccompanied, receive temporary billeting at Replacement.
- All other Soldiers will need to make their own lodging arrangements.

Temporary lodging is available at the IHG Army Hotels Colorado - Candlewood Suites. The hotel is close to Evans Army Community Hospital (EACH), the Commissary, and the Post Exchange (PX). For families, Iron Horse Park is available with a variety of playgrounds, 7093 Specker Avenue. For dog owners, the Fort Carson Dog Park, is also located in Iron Horse Park. TDY personnel and PCSing families are housed on a priority basis. For assistance or to make reservations, call (719) 526-4832 or 877-711-8326.

If at any time Candlewood Suites is unavailable for your arrival or departure, please reach out to the Housing Services Office (HSO), located at Bldg. 1225, Rm 189. The HSO has a list of military friendly accommodations with partners off post with affordable short-term and extended stay rates. For assistance, call Ms. Keisha Layton at (719) 238-6458 or Ms. Shelbi Getz at 725-8096.

Below are important resources to help new arrivals with housing options. This includes information on Army Housing, Army Community Service (ACS), housing on other installations and school districts.

Army Housing

Army Housing provides three core services for housing support; Family Housing for on-post housing, the Housing Services Office (HSO) for off-post housing, and Unaccompanied Housing for barracks living.

1. On Post Housing – Family Housing

Family Housing on Fort Carson is managed by Balfour Beatty Communities. It is in the Joel Hefley Community Center on 6800 Prussman Boulevard, Bldg. 6800. Housing is available to all ranks. The Soldiers' full with dependent Basic Allowance for Housing (BAH) rate is applied as their monthly rent. If the Soldier is Dual Military, the senior Soldier's BAH rate is applied.

Stoves, refrigerators, and washer/dryer hook-ups are in all homes. Utilities are not free and Fort Carson participates in the Live Army Green program. Soldiers needing Exceptional Family Member Program (EFMP) support, should contact the ACS EFMP office for assistance, (719) 526-0400.

Community Life NCOs (CLNCOs) are Soldier and Family advocates who build trust and rapport with residents who reside in on-post family housing. CLNCOs accompany all service members when they first sign for their homes. When residents experience issues, the CLNCOs are available to help. When appropriate, a CLNCO will engage the Soldier's chain of command to assist. Additionally, Soldiers who have safety and security concerns should report these to their village CLNCO, who will work with the Directorate of Public Works Housing Division and Fort Carson Family Homes staffs, but they are a separate entity. Up-to-date contact for CLNCOs is located on the Fort Carson website, <https://home.army.mil/carson/>, search CLNCO. For assistance, call the HSO at (719) 725-8096 or 238-6458.

To apply for Family Housing, go to www.fortcarsonfamilyhomes.com and click on the How to Apply tab along the top. For assistance, call (719) 579-1606 or send an email to carsonleasing@bbcgrp.com.

2. Off Post Housing – Housing Services Office (HSO)

The HSO is at 1649 Evans Street, in Bldg. 1225, Room 189. It is available to assist with finding housing in the local communities. Staff is knowledgeable about the local community laws and policies and is available to assist Soldiers and Families with finding solutions to housing needs and issues. Staff work closely with landlords and homeowners to ensure the quality of homes meet Government standards. Assistance ranges from one-on-one support in locating adequate, affordable, and available housing for you and your family to complaint mediation when there are disputes between tenants & landlords to reviewing/clarifying/explaining lease contracts.

Note, in 2017 the Army changed its Permissive TDY requirements; Soldiers are no longer required to visit the HSO to obtain an HSO stamp. If a Soldier receives BAH, they should report to the HSO upon arrival at Fort Carson. Army regulations require they visit the HSO prior to making permanent off-post living arrangements.

Additional HSO services and resources include:

- Certificates of Non-Availability (CNAs): Issued to Pregnant Single Soldiers, Criminal Investigation Department Soldiers, Military Police Investigators working within the Directorate of Emergency Services and when the installation barracks utilization is greater than 95 percent. For assistance, call the HSO at (719) 238-6458.
- Defense Travel Management: Moving is complicated. If you have questions about Basic Allowance for Housing (BAH), Temporary Living Expense (TLE), Dislocation Allowance (DLA), and a hundred other topics, go to www.travel.dod.mil. Note: Do not be confused, TLE is for Continental United States change in duty assignments while TLA (Temporary Living Allowance) is for overseas duty assignments. If you are looking for the BAH rate, Fort Carson's zip code is 80913.
- Dual Military Soldiers, Who are Both, Assigned to Fort Carson: Are required to contact the HSO to obtain a Certificate of Non-availability to reside on/off post. A Soldier should not enter into a legally binding rental or lease agreement until the CNA request has been approved. For details, call (719) 238-6458.
- Exemption to Policy (ETP): In an unusual circumstance, requiring Basic Allowance for Housing authorization, contact the HSO to determine if the circumstance is justifiable. The HSO staff can advise S1 personnel on the required paperwork for the ETP packet. The completed ETP packet is submitted by the unit to the HSO for review. The HSO staff submits all ETP packets directly to the garrison commander. The garrison commander is Fort Carson's only approving authority. For assistance, call the HSO at (719) 725-8096 or 238-6458.
- Geographical Bachelors: Are not authorized to live in the barracks. A geographic bachelor is defined as a Soldier who is authorized BAH at with dependent rate who elects not to be accompanied by Family Members.
- HOMES.mil: A DoD-sponsored site, it is designed to improve and speed up the process for service members and their families to secure available off-post community housing rentals. Log on to www.homes.mil and enter Fort Carson as your installation to what is available.
- Permanent Party Bachelor Officer and Bachelor SSG-CSM: Quarters are not available on Fort Carson. Soldiers in these groups must live off-post. BAH will be at without dependent rate.
- Volunteer Realtors for Rentals and Sale Listings: The HSO partners with the Pikes Peak Association of Realtors (PPAR) to provide onsite volunteer realtor services. These are vetted qualified realtors who volunteer to assist Army housing counselors in helping Soldiers and Families find rental and sale listings through the Multiple Listing Service system. Services include printouts of rental and sale listings, information regarding purchases of homes such as application procedures, interest rates and discussing various types of mortgages such as VA, FHA, and conventional loans. For assistance, call (719) 238-6458 or 725-8096.

3. Barracks Living - Unaccompanied Housing

Soldiers needing barracks should contact Fort Carson Unaccompanied Housing, located in Bldg. 1225 on Evans Street, Room 189. There, they will obtain specific information on living in the barracks. Soldiers can also reference Army Regulation (AR) 420-1, Army Facilities Management, Chapter 3 (Army Barracks Management).

- Single Soldiers E5 and below: All must reside in the barracks. Barracks utilization rate must be 95% or higher, post wide, with zero Geographical Bachelors in barracks for approval.
- Dual Military E1 to E5 without Dependents who are Stationed Apart for more than 120 days: Will be treated like single Soldiers in accordance with AR 420-1, 3-20d (4); this means single Soldiers are required to live in the barracks. Contact your unit leader or the HSO if you believe you qualify for an exception.
- Pregnant Single Soldiers: Can not stay in the barracks. Each must move out of the barracks and move either into on post Family Housing managed by Fort Carson Family Homes or off post. Pregnant single Soldiers will need to apply for Basic Allowance for Housing (BAH). To do this, they should visit the HSO, room 189. There, they will learn about the memorandum to request authorization to live off-post signed by their Company Commander, a pregnancy statement from the hospital, and more.
- Recently Divorced Soldiers: A copy of their divorce decree and a DD Form 5960 Start/Stop/Change BAH form stamped by finance will be needed to request barracks.
- Questions: Soldiers should call Fort Carson Unaccompanied Housing at (719) 726-8956 or 725-4476; or can also contact the HSO at 238-6458 or 725-8096.

For more information, go to the Army Housing Online website, www.housing.army.mil. It is maintained by Headquarters, Department of the Army Housing Division and allows users to select their installation. It offers up-to-date info maintained by housing staff to ensure Soldiers and Families are aware of housing options.

Rentals: Avoiding & Resolving Disagreements (Provided by HSO)

The following information has been compiled to help tenants avoid or resolve rental-housing disagreements. This information should not be substituted for legal advice from attorneys or other qualified advisors. In addition, the Colorado Revised Statutes, section 38-12-101 and 13-40-101 may be referenced.

For assistance, contact the Fort Carson HSO at (719) 238-6458 or 725-8096.

- Application Processing Fee: Each applicant must pay an Application Processing Fee. This fee covers the cost of obtaining credit and background reports and other minor administrative costs incurred in processing your application. This fee is NOT refundable to you unless the unit is rented to another individual prior to your application being processed. It is an estimation of the actual out-of-pocket expenses to be incurred while verifying and qualifying the submitted rental application. It is possible that an additional fee may be required to be paid at a later time for additionally required verification procedures. By paying these fee(s) the Applicant acknowledges and understands that the Application Fee is a non-refundable charge to cover the costs of processing the application. The fee may be paid in cash or money order or by personal check although the process may be delayed as we may wait for the check to clear.
- Attorney Fees Clause: Most standard leases contain a clause stating that one side of the other will be required to pay attorney's fees if the matter goes to court. Be on the lookout for clauses that state the resident will have to pay attorney's fees no matter which side brings the case. Such a clause could prevent you from suing the landlord if he or she breaches the lease. Look for language stating that the "prevailing party" will receive attorney's fees. This means that whichever side loses the court case will have to pay.
- Breaking the Lease: Generally, tenants cannot break a lease for the landlord's failure to make repairs unless the repairs are very serious, such as a leaking roof or broken furnace. Landlords also are not responsible for crime in the surrounding neighborhood. They do have a legal duty to take reasonable measures to keep the building safe, but this usually means only keeping working locks on all building entrances. Thus, it is very important that you thoroughly research a neighborhood before renting an apartment or house. Under most circumstances, a landlord should not “lockout” a tenant for any reason without a court order. The landlord may be held responsible for interfering with the tenant’s right to “peaceful possession” until a legal court eviction. A landlord who illegally locks out a tenant risks being sued for damages. If your landlord has locked you out without a court order:

- 1) Call the police: You can call the police and ask for assistance. It would be helpful if you have a lease or mail or other proof you reside at the address. Depending on the police officer, he or she may be willing to try to persuade the landlord to allow you back in your home.
  - 2) Contact your landlord: You can contact your landlord and advise him or her that he/she has illegally locked you out and that you should be allowed back in your home.
  - 3) Contact your attorney: If these methods are unsuccessful, you should consult a private attorney. You can find an attorney in the Yellow Pages or through an attorney referral service, listed after the “Attorney” listing in the Yellow Pages. You should see whether the attorney can assist you in either getting restored to your home, obtaining your possessions and/or suing the landlord for damages.
- Breed Restrictions: Landlords in Colorado Springs have various rules about pets. It may be difficult finding a home due to breed restrictions. The common breeds that are not permitted, Pit Bull, Rottweiler, American Staffordshire Terriers, English Staffordshire Bull Terriers, and Mastiffs, Akita, Mastiffs and wolf hybrids.
  - Credit Report: The Fair Credit Reporting Act (FCRA) is an American federal law that regulates the collection, dissemination, and use of consumer credit information. It, along with the Fair Debt Collection Practices Act (FDCPA), forms the base of consumer credit rights in the United States. A landlord may use Tenant Credit Reports to evaluate rental applications – as long as they follow the provisions of the Fair Credit Reporting Act (FCRA). The FCRA is designed to protect the privacy of consumer report information and to guarantee that the information supplied by consumer reporting agencies (CRAs) is as accurate as possible. The FCRA requires landlords who deny a lease based on information in the applicant’s consumer report to provide the applicant with an “adverse action notice”. The 3 big CRAs Experian, Trans Union, and Equifax, do not interact with information furnishers directly as a result of consumer disputes. They use a system called E-Oscar.
  - Eviction: The only way a landlord can legally evict a tenant is by going through the legal eviction process. A landlord may evict a tenant for the following 3 reasons:
    - 1) Failure to pay rent on time. The landlord must first give the tenant a written notice* demanding that the tenant either pay the rent or move out within 3 days. If the tenant fails to pay or move, the landlord may on the 4th day commence an eviction proceeding in county court. The tenant may contest the eviction if the tenant thinks there are legal rounds by filing an answer on or before the time set by the court. If the tenant fails to answer or appear on the date indicated in the eviction papers, the tenant will then have 48 hours to vacate or be forcibly removed by the sheriff’s department.
    - 2) Breaking any terms of the lease. If the tenant breaks any of the written or oral terms (remember, oral terms are hard to prove in court) of the lease, the tenant may be evicted in much of the same manner as nonpayment of rent. In such cases, the landlord must give the tenant written notice of the lease violation and 3 days to remedy the situation or move. If the tenant fails to comply or move, the landlord on the 4th day may commence eviction proceedings in county court.
    - 3) No reason. If the landlord wants to evict a tenant at the end of the lease period, the landlord can do so without giving a reason, but the landlord must give the tenant proper notice to leave. Notice to vacate must be served upon the tenant in a specified number of days before the end of the rental period. The length of the lease period is determined within the lease. If the lease does not state the rental term or a written lease does not exist, the rental period is determined by the frequency of rental payments. For example, if the rent is due each month, it is a month-to-month tenancy or lease. Notice to vacate requirements for rental lease periods are as follows: 1 year or longer – 3 months; 6 months to 1 year – 1 month; 1 month to 6 months – 10 days; 1 week to 1 month – 3 days; and less than 1 week – 1 day. If the tenant fails to leave, the landlord, again, must follow the procedures set forth above.
  - Holding Deposit: A deposit used to hold a rental unit while the application is being processed. The deposit is refundable if the renter’s application is denied. It is usually non-refundable if the renter changes his mind about renting after being approved. This holding deposit will be turned into a security deposit when the renter takes possession of the rental unit. Return of the Deposit – When a tenant leaves a rental unit, the landlord has 30 days (unless stipulated differently in the lease) to return the security deposit or send a written list of damages and the amount of money owed for repairs to the tenant. The above must be sent to the tenant's last known address. If a security deposit is wrongly withheld, the tenant could receive a judgement of three times the amount wrongfully withheld, and court costs and attorney's fees. A tenant may utilize small claims court for this purpose.

- Leases: A lease (a written rental agreement) sets up the rules between the tenant and the landlord regarding the rental unit. A lease should protect both the landlord and the tenant. Leases can be set for any length of time, but most are for six months or one year. Examples of other provisions a lease sets forth are: identification of the leased property, number of persons who are to reside in the unit, security deposit, rent amount, and rent due date, late penalty fee, utility responsibilities, yard care, trash removal, repair responsibility, subleasing and whether pets are allowed. During the term of a lease, changes cannot be made to the lease unless mutually agreed to by both the landlord and the tenant. The lease must be signed by the landlord and the tenant. If there is something in the lease that you do not understand or agree with, DO NOT SIGN IT until the issue is resolved. Once the lease is signed, both parties are bound to it. A standard lease form can be obtained from a book or stationery store. Provisions can be added to these forms to meet any special needs. If there is not a written lease and the rent is paid monthly, the tenancy is considered month-to-month. To protect both of you, make sure any agreements that are made that are not part of the original lease are put into writing no matter how much you trust each other. If anything goes wrong, most judges will not even let "oral agreements" be presented in court.
- Military Clause: It is important that your lease contain a "military clause". A standard military clause allows soldiers to terminate his or her lease early if the soldier receives PCS orders sending him or her to a new duty station. When exercising the right, the Service Member is still required to give a 30 day written notice to the landlord accompanied by a set of official orders. If a landlord gives you a lease without a "military clause," you should offer to type or write a clause into the lease. The Housing Services Office at Fort Carson (HSO) can give you a sample language to use.
- Moving In: At the time of move in, a tenant should create a file in which to keep important documents related to their rental housing. The file should contain receipts for all deposits, the lease, an inspection checklist of damages to the unit, monthly rent receipts and any other documents that pertain to their rental housing. Before moving into a rental unit, it is very important for the landlord and the tenant to examine the condition of the rental unit. All existing damages in the rental unit should be listed in writing and signed by both the landlord and the tenant. This will avoid untold arguments pertaining to the refund of the security deposit and additional damage claims. If the landlord will not sign the list of existing damages noted, then a neutral witness should be present when the family inspects the rental unit. This witness can sign the existing damage list. The Housing Services Office (HSO) can give you a sample of a Move-in Inspection checklist to use.
- Moving Out: Before moving out, both the tenant and landlord should inspect the rental unit. A written statement of the condition of the unit should be signed by both parties. If the landlord refuses to inspect the unit at move-out, then the tenant should obtain a neutral witness to check the condition of the unit with them. Again, a statement of the condition should be signed by both.
- Pet Deposit: A pet deposit (sometimes called an "animal deposit") is additional money you are asked to pay in advance to offset any damages caused by an animal during the time you are renting your house/apartment. It's basically an additional security deposit. The pet deposit may be non-refundable based on your property manager and used to pay for de-fleaing and cleaning your rental unit.
- Rent Increases: If a lease exists the rent is locked in for the term of the lease. If there is not a lease, a landlord can increase a tenant's rent by giving the following written notice: 10 days written notice before rent is due if rent is paid once a month; 3 days written notice before rent is due if rent is paid weekly or semi-monthly. Mobile Home Parks: 60 days written notice required for rent increases on space when not protected by a lease for a longer period of time.
- Renters Insurance: If you rent or own your home, you need a homeowner's policy to protect your home and its contents. If you rent a house, condominium, townhouse, or apartment, your landlord will generally have a policy that covers the building. However, your landlord's policy will not cover your belongings that are in the home or on the property. Renters insurance is inexpensive at about $20 or less per month. Renters insurance protects your belongings in the event of a fire, a theft, or other unforeseen events. To ensure you are compensated for any belongings you lose from a fire, storm or other catastrophe, you should inventory all of your personal belongings. Your inventory should list each item, its value, and serial number. Photograph or videotape each room, including closets, open drawers, storage buildings, and your garage. Keep receipts for major items in a fireproof place.

- Security Deposit: A security deposit, (a.k.a. damage or cleaning deposit) is a payment of money by a tenant to a landlord to cover damage or cleaning of a rental unit. A landlord can keep all or part of the security deposit to cover damage caused by the tenant's negligence, intentional abuse or cleaning beyond normal wear and tear. A landlord can utilize small claims court to collect money owed for damages that exceed the security deposit collected.
- Trespass by Landlord: The tenant has the right to peaceful enjoyment of the property, but this right can be modified by the lease. Unless the lease provides otherwise, the landlord does not have a right to enter the property without permission of the tenant except to make emergency repairs. A tenant can sue a landlord for violating the tenant's rights.
- Written Notice: Should contain the following:
  - 1) the date,
  - 2) the address of the rental unit,
  - 3) the dollar amount of the rent owed or the lease violation,
  - 4) the tenant's option of paying the rent or complying with the lease within three days of vacating the unit,
  - 5) the notice must be signed by the landlord or the agent for the landlord,
  - 6) if the tenant pays the full rent owed and/or complies with other terms of the lease within 3 days, this cancels the eviction, and
  - 7) the Computation of time law states that the 3 day period begins the day after the notice is given, and the last day of the 3 days cannot end on a Saturday, Sunday, or legal Holiday.

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

Q: What is a notarization?

A: Notarization is a confirmation of identity and that a signature is valid. It is not a confirmation that a document is true, accurate, or valid.

Q: What is a power of attorney?

A: A power of attorney (POA) is a document that gives someone else authority to act on your behalf in your absence. No one is required to accept a POA. The more specific a POA is the more likely it will be accepted.

Q: What is a certified copy?

A: It does not certify that the primary document is genuine. It is a copy of a document that has on it an endorsement that it is a true copy of the document presented. You must have the original document with you for our office to certify a copy.

Q: Do I have to attend the divorce brief to get a divorce?

A: You must attend the divorce brief before speaking to an attorney at our office for legal advice. However, the brief is not a requirement to file for divorce since we cannot submit anything on your behalf, and you do not file anything at our office.

Q: Can the Army give me a lawyer for my court case?

A: We cannot represent you in court, write or file any motions, but we can help you prepare to represent yourself. Legal Assistance attorneys can provide legal advice, negotiate on your behalf, prepare some legal documents (estate planning, military administrative rebuttals), review contracts/leases, and more.
