AN INTRODUCTION

The Band Steele is made up of two high school friends, from Winston County, Alabama, who began performing together at the age of 14. Fast Forward to 2015: the young, talented musicians quickly became Internet Phenoms and inked a record deal with the independent New York City-based label, Fire River Records. In a few short years, The Band Steele has performed around the country, appeared at NASCAR events and in film, toured military bases and released two recording projects, five singles to country radio, and one to Christian radio and filmed multiple music videos. The Band Steele was recognized as "Favorite New Group Or Duo" by South Florida Country Music (2019). The singersongwriter pair is a "no-nonsense" country outfit that doesn't believe in music genre barriers; their music is 100% proof.

Musical compositions encompass summer love, love loss, recognize fallen comrades, unsung heroes, and share good-hearted spirit in rockin' and rowdy, good-timin' tunes that move the listeners to tears or to pick-up a pool stick and raise a bottle of beer. From behind chicken wire or before a wide-open field of thousands, The Band Steele is a modern, fiery force to be reckoned with.
