Welcome to another edition of The Mountain Post Magazine and an exciting summer season at Fort Carson.

As we move through July, August, and September, the Directorate of Family and Morale, Welfare, and Recreation remains proud to provide programs, events, and resources that support connection, readiness, and quality of life across our community. Summer is always a meaningful time on the Mountain Post, bringing Soldiers, Families, Retirees, Civilians, and community partners together through recreation, celebration, and shared experiences.

This season, we are especially excited to celebrate Freedom Fest on July 3 as Fort Carson joins the nation in recognizing 250 years of America and 150 years of Colorado. Freedom Fest continues to be one of our signature community celebrations, bringing entertainment, activities, and patriotic pride to the installation. Events like this remind us of the strength of our community and the importance of creating moments where Families can gather, celebrate, and feel connected.

As summer continues, DFMWR programs across Fort Carson will offer opportunities for Families to stay active, explore new interests, and enjoy the resources available throughout the installation. From youth programs and fitness opportunities to outdoor recreation, community events, and Family support services, our mission remains focused on enhancing the lives of those we serve.

We are also looking ahead to everything fall has to offer, including the return of seasonal favorites like BooFest. As the year continues, we look forward to bringing even more opportunities for fun, connection, and community engagement to Fort Carson.

Thank you for being part of what makes the Mountain Post such a special place. We are honored to serve this incredible community and look forward to celebrating another memorable season with you.

Sincerely,
Ryan J. Noble
Director of DFMWR

About Army Community Services

Welcome to Summer at Fort Carson

Summer is here at Fort Carson, and July, August, and September are the perfect months to enjoy warmer weather, connect with community resources, and focus on Family safety.

As Families spend more time outdoors and settle into summer routines, Army Community Service encourages everyone to review the installation's Safe at Home policy. This is a helpful reminder to stay informed on age requirements and safety guidelines for leaving children home alone.

This quarter, ACS is offering a strong lineup of programs designed to support Soldiers, Families, and

NEW DUTY STATION?
NEW SCHOOL?

SCHOOL LIAISONS HAVE YOU COVERED.

For Military-Families, a new duty station often means a new school, new routines and a long list of questions. Fort Carson School Liaison Officers help make that transition easier by connecting Families with information, resources and support for school-age children. School Liaison Officers serve as a bridge between military Families, local school districts and the Fort Carson community. They help Families better understand school options, enrollment steps, registration requirements, calendars, bus routes and educational resources available in the local area.

Their support is especially valuable during a PCS move, when Families may be navigating school transfers, records, district boundaries or special education needs. Whether a Family is arriving at Fort Carson, preparing to leave or simply trying to better understand available school resources, the School Liaison team can help point them in the right direction.

School Liaison Officers also work alongside community partners and school districts to support the unique needs of military-connected students. Their goal is to help Families feel more informed, prepared and confident as children transition into a new academic environment.

From enrollment questions to school transitions, Fort Carson School Liaison Officers are here to help Families start the school year with confidence.

For assistance, contact the School Liaison Officer on duty at 719-526-1101.

Navy Federal is federally insured by NCUA. ¹Navy Federal Credit Union was included in 8 Best VA loan Lenders in May 2026 by money.com (www.money.com/best-va-loans). ²100% financing subject to all VA rules, guidelines, and additional program requirements. All loans subject to approval. VA loans may include a funding fee, which may be financed up to the maximum allowed loan amount. Navy Federal has no affiliation with the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs or any other government agency. ³The program is only available for individual home purchases/sales in the contiguous US, Alaska, and Hawaii, excluding Iowa and all employer-sponsored relocations. You are not required to receive financing through Navy Federal Credit Union in order to receive the benefits of this program. The cash back is only available with the purchase or sale of your home through the use of a program-referred and -approved real estate agent, and is offered in most states, with the exception of Iowa, Alaska, and Oklahoma, and is not available in certain transactions with restricted agent commissions (including many new constructions, For Sale by Owner, or For Sale by iBuyer transactions). Your assigned agent can help you identify any transactions where the cash back would not be available. The amount of your cash back depends on the value of the property you are buying or selling. Obtaining the full $9,000 cash back requires transacting in a property valued at $3 million or greater. To calculate your potential cash-back amount, please visit the RealtyPlus website: <https://navyfederalrealtyplus.com/>. The cash-back offer is limited to one cash back per property with no limit on the number of times you may use the program. In some states, a gift card or commission credit at closing may be provided in lieu of the cash back. In Kansas and Tennessee, a Mastercard[®] MAX gift card will be issued with preloaded points that are ready for spending at specified retail establishments after closing. State regulations in Kansas limit the dollar amounts and the type of incentive. In Mississippi, New Jersey, and Oregon, a commission reduction may be available at closing in lieu of cash back. Please check with the program coordinator for details. All real estate commissions are negotiable. Contact RealtyPlus for terms and conditions. Seller listing fees apply. This program is offered, in part, by Anywhere Leads Inc., which may receive a co-operative brokerage fee as a result of a referral to any affiliated real estate companies, including Better Homes and Gardens[®] Real Estate, Coldwell Banker[®], Century 21[®], ERA[®] Real Estate, and Corcoran. Program terms and conditions are subject to change at any time without notice. Additional terms, conditions, and restrictions apply. Brings Color, Connection and Community to Fort Carson KidsFest brought a full day of energy, excitement and family fun to Fort Carson, creating a memorable celebration for military children and the community that supports them.

One of the biggest highlights of the event was the 5K Color Run, which welcomed more than 1,200 runners. Participants of all ages filled the course with color, laughter and movement, making the run one of the most exciting moments of the day. From families running together to children crossing the finish line covered in bright colors, the event captured the spirit of joy and resilience that KidsFest was created to celebrate.

The celebration continued throughout the event area, drawing more than 4,500 attendees and featuring 40+ vendors and sponsors. Families enjoyed free bounce houses, character appearances, face painting, caricature artists and interactive activities designed to keep children engaged and entertained.

Community partners also helped bring the event to life. Families had the opportunity to explore playsets from 123Playset, giving children a chance to climb, slide and imagine while learning more about playset rental options for military Families. Guests also connected with organizations such as Bikers Against Child Abuse, along with representatives from the Colorado pageant community, including Ms. Colorado.

KidsFest was more than a day of activities. It was a celebration of military children, their Families and the community partnerships that help make Fort Carson feel like home. From the color run to the vendor booths, every part of the event reflected the importance of creating spaces where Families can connect, children can be celebrated and the community can come together.

With thousands in attendance and strong support from vendors, sponsors and community partners, KidsFest showed the power of collaboration and the impact of creating meaningful experiences for Fort Carson Families.
