Master Resilience Trainer – Performance Experts (MRT-PE), Ft Carson CO

MRT-PEs teach mental skills, resilience and performance enhancement techniques to military Soldiers, Families and DA Civilians. Teaching is conducted in group and individual settings and includes general education in human performance along with personalized training on how to acquire and apply specific mental skills and techniques that cultivate the mental and emotional strength necessary to thrive in an environment of overwhelming demands and persistent conflict. The mental skills and techniques taught by the program include: Building Confidence, Goal Setting, Attention Control, Energy Management, Integrating Imagery and Team Building. Using these principles, MRT-PEs help the clients to become high performing “tactical athletes” and help foster high performing “unit teams” in preparation for, during, and following combat operations. Specifically, MRT-PEs teach performance psychology to further promote excellence and efficiency during physical, technical and tactical training, as well as during the challenges of combat operations. MRT-PEs also provide tailored education to facilitate Wounded Warriors in their transition back to their units or to civilian life. The program teams are comprised of 5-10 MRT-PEs and led by a seasoned Site Manager with prior military experience.

- Facilitates collaborative learning discussions during table exercises. Helps keep discussions on track, tease out key points from learners as the process unfolds, and keep the exercises on schedule.
- Attends training exercises and field operations as requested by individual units to serve as a performance enhancement consultant and to coach the clients and leaders on the acquisition of performance psychology techniques and their application to individual military tasks and unit operations.
- Provides tailored educational programs and workshops to help Families and Civilians living and working in demanding environments achieve success and accomplish personal, professional and family goals.
- Recommends improvements to all aspects of the program operations.
- Performs routine program operational duties.
- Conducts assessment, assists in program evaluation and supports research projects being conducted locally.
- Assists or provides program overview briefings to VIPs and high-ranking leaders when required.
- Develops and maintains professional development relating to all aspects of performance enhancement, academic proficiency and military-related knowledge.

MINIMUM REQUIREMENTS:

- Full certification within the program.
- Master's or Doctoral degree from an accredited college or university in the field of Psychology or Kinesiology with a specialized emphasis in sport and/or performance psychology.
- Must be able to operate general office equipment including but not limited to: computer, phones and related media and information devices on most or all workdays.
- Ability to communicate and interact with others, both in person and/or by telephone to conduct business.

- Experience and ability to work under time pressure.
- Working rapidly for long periods to meet deadlines.
- Must be able to travel as needed and adhere to AFSC travel policies and procedures.
- Must be able to enter private homes that may or may not provide easy access for those with physical disabilities or those recovering from physical rehabilitation or post-recovery mobility.
- Position requires ability to transport self from office locations to private homes, other offices and facilities where training and other program activities occur.
- Physical requirements can typically be characterized as active: Lifting, bending, sitting on the floor, climbing may be required in the position. Requires lifting or moving various pieces of equipment, maximum 40 lbs. Position may require work on hands and knees to conduct program activities.
- Ability to manage multiple concurrent tasks and perform under stress.
- Requires reading and comprehension proficiency.
- Requires effective writing and problem solving skills.
- Ability to maintain confidentiality.
- Customer contact expertise.
- Travel requirement: 25%.
- Prefer internship or experience in an adaptive sports community.

United States Department of State

Opportunities for service members and veterans

Foreign Service Specialists: <https://careers.state.gov/work/foreign-service/specialist/>.

These specialized positions are somewhat akin to warrant officers and include positions in IT, radio communications, engineering (construction and security), and business administration, among others. We do have a fellowship available for IT students, which provides support for two years of undergraduate or graduate study followed by a five year service commitment: <https://www.faitfellowship.org/>. Not all of these positions are open at all times, but interested individuals can register to receive updates.

Foreign Service Generalists: <https://careers.state.gov/work/foreign-service/officer/>. This career path is divided into five career tracks. The consular career track deals with issues such as crisis response, citizen services, visas. FSOs in the economic career track report on economic trends, support U.S. businesses, follow trade issues, and may be responsible for environmental and STEM diplomacy. The management career track manages the embassy or consulate's people, resources, and systems, including the motor pool and housing. FSOs in the political career track analyze and report on internal/external political relations, human rights, democracy, security, and socio-political trends. The public diplomacy career track is responsible for press relations, social media, education and cultural affairs, public outreach, and exchanges. For those thinking of graduate school, the Rangel and Pickering Fellowships also offer support for two years of graduate study: <https://rangelprogram.org> and <https://pickeringfellowship.org/>, followed by a five year service commitment.

Civil Service: <https://careers.state.gov/work/civil-service/>. Most of these positions are in the Washington DC area. Those interested can apply for positions on USAJobs.gov.

Information on veterans' preferences and benefits can be found at <https://careers.state.gov/learn/diversity-inclusion/veterans-program-office/>.
