Responsibilities:

- Collaborates with clients and teams to develop on-brand messages.
- Identifies target customers and markets.
- Collects and compiles customer feedback in a clear and easily reviewed format for review by company management and leadership.
- Collects and maintains records required to track, review, and modify the performance of marketing initiatives.
- Forecasts and analyzes sales trends, marketing strategies, and product performance; prepares and presents reports summarizing information; makes recommendations based on analysis.
- Develops and distributes materials related to sales, training, and marketing.
- Develops and maintains positive relationships with existing and potential clients.
- Create engaging content for marketing projects including newsletters, websites, social media, and print material.
- Complete timely website projects, including: adding pages, updating content on client portals, and integrations
- Video editing
- Communicate thoughtfully to provide answers to questions for both technical and non-technical issues, staying informed on all appropriate types of technologies.
- Update CRM regularly
- Use LinkedIn regularly to connect with potential clients, as well as create content for LinkedIn (articles, posts, videos) to help provide additional value to potential clients.
- Respond to emails and calls within one hour during standard business hours (9 am–5 pm). Most responses can be handled via smartphone. If a schedule conflict is known in advance, accommodations can be made with prior notice to management.
- Participate in routine team calls as required by management
- Contribute to team goals by accomplishing related results as applicable
- Additional duties as requested by management

Requirements:

- Must have existing knowledge of marketing and a background in producing content
- Experience bringing new and creative ideas to drive results.
